HIGHLIGHTS

Comprehensive course for bedside point of care ultrasound in emergency and critically ill patients. No previous knowledge of ultrasound is required.

Point-of-care ultrasound (POCUS) acts as an aid to traditional examination techniques in assessing patients in the Emergency department & ICU.

Focus is reproducible, repeatable, rapidly interpretable bedside test.

POCUS Workshop will give hands-on experience to train the bedside providers regarding the applications with the portable ultrasound.

Through a series of sessions, delegates will practise capturing specific ultrasound views on volunteers under the guidance of experienced faculty.

The session includes comprehensive and lucid lectures to enhance the participant's awareness of the indications, technical skills, and clinical integration of bedside ultrasound.
